Sonny, a name, an identity

by MiaQc

Summary

A short fanfic about Sonny who becomes “evil” by letting his zombie nature take over.

- A translation of Sonny, un nom, une identité by MiaQc

Sonny. A name Louis gave me.

Sonny. A name. An identity.

Yet I remember nothing. My past is blank.

The world has fallen since the zombies appeared. The ZPCI —Zombie Pest Control Inc.— kills without mercy. Even civilians. They're hiding something, that's for sure.

Veradux. My zombie friend. He always told me to show no mercy to our enemies. Humans or zombies. No difference. Thus he must feel responsible now.

Because I let my zombie nature, my “monster” nature, take over. I kill anyone who gets in my way. I hardly speak anymore. What's the point of talking to a future corpse?

I left Veradux behind. Even though he wanted to stay with me. I feed on human flesh now. It tastes good.

Sonny. That's me. But Sonny is just a name. A name can be erased, replaced by another.

I still want to find out who I was before and I will succeed. But if my path crosses Veradux, he won't recognize me.

He’ll see a “evil” zombie, a monster to destroy. I’ll see an enemy in combat armor, another target to kill.

Veradux. My old friend. Please don't come upon me. Otherwise, I will destroy you.
